

Is viagra bad for you for treating erectile dysfunction?

VIAGRA

About Viagra

- Viagra is an oral anti-impotent drug branded Viagra. However, both medications work the same to combat ED.
- Sildenafil Citrate is the active component that works to boost blood flow to the male organ and helps to attain an erection.
- The standard dose of Viagra is 100mg
- Online drugstore offers generic viagra 100mg tablets quickly.

How do viagra act to control feeble erections?

- The viagra belongs to the class of medicines PDE5inhibitor that acts to inhibit the PDE5 enzyme.
- The Viagra works to produce vasodilators and helps to supply higher blood flow
- The enhanced vasodilators help to relax muscles and dilate arteries.
- The higher blood augmentation results in an erection

Is viagra bad for you?

Is Viagra bad for you ? Yes in some cases. It is essential to take this drug correctly. It may cause:

- It may cause a sudden drop in blood pressure if taken with nitrates.
- Hearing loss on overdosing
- Optic nerve damage or sudden vision loss
- Painful erection for a prolonged period

What contraindications of Viagra?

The Viagra is contraindicated in some men such as:

- Men with severe or extreme health issues
- Men who regularly use alpha-blockers and nitrates
- Women and Children
- Individuals under 18 years of age

Contact Us At:

Website: <https://www.medexpressrx.com/health-wellness/viagra-uses-composition-cost-side-effects-precautions-warnings-interactions.aspx>

Toll-Free: +1-800-808-3375

Email: customersupport@medexpressrx.com

Thank You