Families of British citizens and residents are welcome to travel to or stay in the UK. A visa is available to children (under the age of 18) of British citizens, permanent residents, and anyone who have been given permission to live in the UK. They can use the VAF4 application form to request a temporary visa which falls under Family visas UK.

Eligibility for Family Visas UK

They can apply for British settlement (Indefinite Leave to Remain) and eventually citizenship after they are in the UK. The points-based system allows migrants' children and partners to apply for a UK visa. Applying for a visa is possible using form VAF10.

The partners, children, and elderly dependent relatives of people who are already in the UK who wish to enter or remain in the country may apply for a UK Family visa. It enables those who are British citizens, have Indefinite Leave to Remain status, or are citizens of an EEA country who reside in the UK to sponsor their partners, parents, and children to move to the UK and live with them. You will get all the solutions if you face any problem while applying for Family visas UK.

How Can You Become British Citizenship at discretion?

According to guidance that was updated on June 28, 2022, a person may become a British citizen under section 4L of the British Nationality Act 1981 if the Home Secretary determines that they "would have been or could have become a British citizen but for one or more of three specific reasons outlined in statute." These include the following:

- "Previous legislative injustice"
- "A public authority's act or omission"
- "Extraordinary circumstances pertaining to [the person]"

When a person has been out of the country for more than 450 or 90 days, does not fulfil the criteria for being fully capable, or has committed an immigration violation, the decision to naturalise them may be left up to the discretion of the government. The criteria for British Citizenship at discretion are based on the following factors: the quality of service for crown services, links to the UK, and long-term commitments to the UK, i.e., the applicant's benefit to the UK and future ambitions.
